

Weather Policy

The Club World Cup and its Event Directors reserve the right to make all final decisions regarding the tournament. At their sole discretion, they may delay, postpone, cancel, or modify the event—including changes to the tournament format, game duration, or number of games per team—as necessary.

The decisions made by The Club World Cup and its Event Director(s) on these matters are final and binding. These decisions do not entitle any team to a refund or reimbursement of entry fees, except as specifically outlined below (subject to any exception set out below, entry fees are nonrefundable).

If the tournament is canceled for any reason before any matches have been played, teams will be eligible to receive either a refund or a credit toward entry fees for a future Club World Cup event. The amount will be determined at the sole discretion of the Club World Cup Executive Committee, taking into account all non-recoverable costs, expenses, and resources already incurred for the tournament. Please note that the determination and issuance of any refund or credit may take up to 90 days following the cancellation.

Outside of complete tournament cancellation, other circumstances may arise in which The Club World Cup, based on the totality of circumstances, decide to provide a refund of some or all of team entry fees (or for particular teams based on impacts from weather and other circumstances). Any such decision to alter the no-refund policy is in the sole and absolute discretion of Club World Cup Executive Committee, and any such decision shall not constitute a binding commitment with respect to future similar circumstances or other teams.

The Club World Cup and its Event Director(s) are not responsible for any costs or expenses incurred by participants—including, without limitation, travel, lodging, or meal expenses—in the event the tournament is delayed, postponed, canceled, or otherwise modified for any reason.
